Firesides Little Joey

2010 miniature bred, VSP Curly stallion. Talk about rare! These little Curlies still number less than approximately 200 worldwide – but they are making a big impression wherever they go. Miniature/small Curlies are used for driving, lead-line, therapy, companionship, jumping and are just all around adorable to have around! I have big plans for *Joey – he is trained to lead-line and is currently in training to drive. We plan to have him sire suitable small Curlies to fulfill the therapy roles we dream about. Joey may be offered at stud to approved mares, so if you have a “little” one you would like to breed or a full size mare to make awesome mid to large size hypoallergenic Curly ponies, please inquire.

The way to Curlies is always curling around the corner

By Tamea Denault, Owner Dreamswept Farm

Tamea Denault with Yellow Storm,
ICHO# 415 S, Running in a vaulting competition

I moved in 1991 from Massachusetts to Washington State for a job teaching for Redmond Parks and Recreation. I sold my horse and packed all my possessions (including all my tack of course!) into my tiny elderly 2 horse trailer and drove cross country for my new job- arriving over the I-90 pass with a monster snow storm chasing my trailer and closing the road behind me. I settled in with a friend from Mount Holyoke College. We had both been on the Vaulting team during our time at College, and decided that we would start a team in the Seattle area (at that time there were no other teams in the area, and only one other on the west side of the state). We ended up with a very nice little Quarter Horse mare. As we started to attend vaulting competitions, I noticed a really nice mare that another team had. I loved the way she moved, the endurance she had, and her ability to put up with quite a bit of movement on her back. I asked them what breed she was. I was told she was part Curly and part Percheron.

Having grown up in the Northeast, I was drawn to the Morgans. I saw at that time a very large influence from Morgans in the Curly breed. I went looking to find a Curly for myself, that would be able to do vaulting. With little money to have multiple horses, this horse would have to do everything—ride, vault, jump, trails, SAR, lessons.

I found a notice on the feed store bulletin board that said “Curly Herd reduction.” I went out to visit the breeder and see what he had for sale. He had a bunch of geldings for sale (I was looking for mares), and I ended up purchasing one of the geldings (Toranado). I had no intention to own my own stallion. I was very impressed with his stallion’s disposition & politeness and ended up buying my first stallion (as a weanling) from him (Dark Cloud ABC 2371).

During our initial conversation, he mentioned that there was a very large breeder, Joe Mead, who was in Sequim, WA. He was in the process of moving to North Dakota, and if I was interested in some good breeding stock— I should immediately get up there and purchase a few mares.

I really was not ready to start a full breeding program. I still had fences to build on my new one woman farm. I really only wanted one of two horses to start with. I went up to see what Joe had for sale. North Dakota was a long way to drive if I wanted to get them later.

Yellow Storm ICHO 415-S with Maya, Tamea Denault lunging Practice at the Farm

Well, if any of you have had the experience of meeting and walking around with Joe (he died in 2008) - you have a good idea of what it was like. A really nice older fellow. An old school horseman, he knew everything about every horse in each pasture we went to. He would talk about blood lines (honestly, this was my first real contact with a Curly breeder—I had no idea what he was talking about!), he would talk about their abilities, he would talk about what he was breeding for, he would talk about horses he used to have and what he did with them. And everywhere there were horses (how was he going to transport all these horses?!), one pasture after another, we walked through the rain and wet grass and looked at Curlies—big, small, young, old, pintos, grullas, and greys.

Yellow Storm ICHO 415-S jumping at the farm with Maya

I saw one I really liked—”How much for that one?”

Joe, “Oh that one is not for sale.”

“But, if she was for sale how much for her?”

Joe, “$3500.”

“I’ll take her.”

Watching a storm coming in at the Farm

This was Mead's Blue Streak ABC S385. And on that same day I purchased Yellow Strom ABC S495, ICHO 415-S, who was only 2 months old (I came back for her 3 months later). When I picked up Storm, I also picked up 3 other mares (one of them was Copper's Replacement, ABC 1847).

Over the years I have had many adventures finding horses at the auction (Copper Billie ABC P-770 (F), ICHO 416-D, full sister to Mead's Blue Streak. We did mounted Search and Rescue for over 13 years, boy could she jump anything! She passed away a few years ago at the age of 38!

Also, KC Prince Charles ABC P-2476, ICHO 405-D, was one of the stallions I had for many years. Jessie ABC 520 1/2, ICHO 418-D, a great jumper, was advertised for sale (road trip!). Both in the US and in Canada (it is only a two day trip, with your horse trailer), to Rocky Mountain House Alberta or picked up at a rescue (Elizabetta).

After 14 years in Western Washington, I have moved to Eastern Washington State (taking at the time about 50 head with me at the time of the move). I have been at my current location 15 years and counting! I have down-sized quite a bit. At this time I have one stallion, and 8 mares (I only breed 2-3 a year).

I have returned to teaching more lessons: Vaulting, Horsemanship, Trail, Hunter/Jumper, Equitation-both English and Western. I utilize many of the techniques we use in vaulting in help teach my riding students a better balanced core and seat.

I have many older students that are returning to riding and need help to get more mobility in their joints to have their best rides.

As the Farm has progressed, we are moving into more of an Equine Event Facility, with clinics and seminars. This year we will add weddings to our list! This last year we had a Ladies' Retreat, 5 of our participants were using Curlies from the Farm so that they could attend mounted.

Dreamswept Farm, Summer

If you are ever in my area— please stop by to visit! We are also on Airbnb.com (look in Kettle Falls, WA). To book a stay in one of our bunk rooms, in the Farmhouse Apartment or the Curly Horse Campground, pipe panel pens are available in the campground. Or come and play at one of our many events this following year!
